ARTS

ART APPRECIATION

An Art of One's Own: The Story of Women in Art

A century ago, Virginia Woolf stated that women need financial resources and their own space to succeed as writers. This idea also applies to women artists who require money, support from other artists, galleries, museums, and recognition for producing significant art. Historically, women artists were largely excluded from art history books until recently. This class discusses a diverse group of women painters, sculptors, and photographers from the Renaissance to the present, covering various art categories like history, mythology, portraiture, landscape, domestic lives, self-reflection, protest, and abstraction. Artists include Artemesia Gentileschi, Angelica Kauffman, Elizabeth Vigee Le Brun, Kathe Kollwitz, Marie Laurencin, Berthe Morisot, Augusta Savage, Jaune Quick-to-See Smith, Frida Kahlo, Georgia O Keeffe, Lee Krasner, Joan Mitchell, Helen Frankenthaler, Carrie Mae Weems, Margaret Bourke-White, Emmi Whitehorse, Alma Thomas, and Faith Ringgold. Join us for an enlightening experience recognizing these talented and memorable artists.

Summer at Seattle Art Galleries

What better way to celebrate the vibrant imagery of summer than to explore the art galleries in Seattle. In this course we will meet weekly at local art galleries to hear talks, tour the space, and ask questions about the work. Following each visit, we will gather for afternoon tea or coffee to discuss the art and share interests. A sampling of galleries includes Stonington, Greg Kucera, Foster/White, Azuma, Davidson, Harris/Harvey, ArtX Contemporary, Gray Sky, and Steinbrueck Native Gallery. Whether you are a seasoned gallery visitor or a newcomer, you are welcome to take part in this harbinger of summer as you experience the art scene in Seattle.

CERAMICS

Beginning Ceramics ★

Transform a lump of clay into a piece of art. Using basic wheel-throwing and hand-building methods, learn to create cups, bowls, boxes, and more. Individualized instruction and demonstrations of the technical underpinnings will give you a strong foundation in the ceramic arts. This course is intended for beginner students new to ceramics. Students may repeat for up to four quarters; students with four or more quarters of any level of ceramics will not be permitted to join.

DRAWING

Landscape Drawing ★

If you love exploring the natural world during the summer months and would like to learn how to express what you see in the landscape through drawing, you may enjoy this class for students of all skill levels. We will make weekly outings into the immediate landscape of the North Seattle Campus and adjacent wetlands and garden areas, becoming familiar with a variety of materials and techniques to record what we observe. We will look at examples of landscape drawing throughout art history for inspiration and contemporary work that explores the potential to abstract from the landscape we perceive. This class involves walking short distances carrying materials, so dress, accordingly, wear comfortable shoes, and bring a backpack or bag.

Sarah Norsworthy				$185

SARAH NORSWORTHY

Sarah is an artist born in Anchorage, Alaska. She earned her B.A. in Studio Art at Dartmouth College in 2002 with a minor in English, and her MFA from The University of Washington in Painting and Drawing in 2015. As an artist she has worked in response to her experiences exploring the landscapes of Washington, Arkansas and Vermont through painting, drawing, fiber arts, and sculptural environment. She was a staff artist at The Vermont Studio Center in 2007-2008.

NEW Landscape Drawing 2 ★

If you love exploring the natural world during the summer months and have had some experience with drawing OR painting with oils you might be interested in this combined course. We will make weekly outings into the immediate landscape of the North Seattle Campus and adjacent wetlands and garden areas, learning new techniques to record what we observe outdoors. We will look at examples of landscape drawing throughout art history for inspiration and contemporary work that explores the potential to abstract from the landscape we perceive. Students may choose to draw or paint through the 8 sessions, or end up doing a bit of both. This class involves walking short distances carrying materials, so dress, accordingly, wear comfortable shoes, and bring a backpack or bag.

M Quarles $220

M QUARLES

M's work focuses on the combination of non-traditionally constructed pieces featuring organic motifs and mixed media combined with modern, more technical stone setting and goldsmithing style. M's passion is working with students on a one-on-one basis as well in larger groups from beginner to advanced. Their teaching style focuses on building students' confidence in using tools and classic techniques in order to use this knowledge in non-traditional ways to make truly original work.

NEW Alloys, Ingots, and Cuttlefish Casting ★

Learn the art of casting metal using cuttlefish bone in this hands-on, two-day workshop. You'll work with silver and bronze alloys, pouring molten metal into hand-carved molds. The cuttlefish bone creates a natural, textured imprint, giving each piece a distinctive look. You'll also refine and finish your castings, gaining essential skills in metalwork. Whether you're a beginner or looking to expand your techniques, this class gives you practical experience in casting and alloying.

NEW Lost Wax Casting Small Studio ★

Discover the lost wax casting process and its applications for jewelry design, functional objects and art metal forms. Explore wax carving and techniques for model making, model investing, centrifugal casting and finishing objects. Techniques will be demonstrated through crafting rings, pendants and jewelry scale objects. We'll also cover the proper use of tools and equipment necessary to carve waxes for successful model casting, spruing techniques, proper investment procedures and design elements that relate to better cast objects. Additional topics may include stone setting in wax, simple mechanisms and finishing tricks. We will also discuss how to work with the jewelry industry to get your production work done. Students should have basic jewelry skills, including how to saw, file, solder and finish.

MIXED MEDIA

Mixed Media Self Abstraction ★

Discover your own creative language and use it to develop your artistic practice. In this class we will use multiple mediums and learn new techniques to push ourselves in exploring self-expression. This class is perfect for someone who has taken abstract art classes before and is wondering "What next?". We will combine mediums: watercolor, acrylic, collage, pencil, oil pastel, and ink. We will explore the use of symbols, written words, texture, drawing and the use of representational images. The goal of this class is to access ourselves as a source for expression; to find an abstract narrative that resonates with you. 2D abstract class experience is helpful.

JARED CORTESE

Jared received a BFA in music from Columbia College Chicago, with a concentration in Jazz Guitar, and has been performing and teaching in the Seattle area since 2011. He has written three workbooks, developed both a guitar technique and music theory workshop, holds seasonal recitals for his students, and organizes an annual performance-based summer camp. Jared loves all styles of music and enjoys learning about new music from his students and watching them achieve a skill they never thought was possible. He teaches every level of guitar, songwriting, and music theory as well as beginner and intermediate ukulele. He is a professional songwriter, recording artist, and performer. He has composed music, toured all over the country with multiple bands, and is currently performing with, and writing music for, Seattle bands Warren Dunes and Electric NoNo.

Learn to Speak Guitar: Guitar and Theory Techniques

This transformative guitar class is designed for students who have a solid understanding of music but struggle to translate their ideas into expressive guitar playing due to insufficient technique and lack of a structured system. Many talented musicians get frustrated when they can't play what they hear in their head and feel in their heart. Our focus is on breaking down these barriers by providing you with the essential tools and a proven method to apply them effectively on the guitar. Simply learning scales, chord shapes, and theory isn't enough - this course will show you how to use them to become a better musician. If you're ready to invest the time and effort, we're confident that together, we can achieve your musical goals. Students must bring their own acoustic or electric guitar and a pick. For electric guitar players, please bring your amp and chords.

ENRICHMENT

Flying Saucer Cinema

This classic science fiction film appreciation class showcases beloved films that cry out for viewing in a group setting the way they were first presented to the world. Each week will bring something new, films ranging from Golden Age sci-fi of the 1950s and 60s to the dystopian science fiction of the 1970s and occasional forays beyond. Co-hosts Eric Cohen and Mark Daniels will be your guides and provide you with film information, trivia, and lively post-screening discussion every week. We kick off Summer Quarter with the 1954 classic Them!, the first big bug sci-fi movie, starring James Whitmore, Edmund Gwenn, Joan Weldon and James Arness. Then we check out the exploits of a group of Martians on their interplanetary quest to find females in 1968's Mars Needs Women. Our third entry, 1957's notorious Attack of the Crab Monsters, from the prolific and recently deceased king of schlock, Roger Corman, showcases scientists trapped on a shrinking island with intelligent, murderous crabs. We wrap up with The Stepford Wives, a chilling 1975 exploration of extreme male backlash against the outspoken women's rights movement of that generation. Whether you are a seasoned science fiction film buff or simply want to put your head in a different place for a couple of hours every week, this will be an engaging, fun adventure of a class you won't want to miss.

MOVEMENT

Tai Chi Ruler: Simple Exercises for Health and Longevity

Tai Chi Ruler (Chih) is a form of Taoist Yoga (Dao-yin) that features 12 easy-to-learn exercises that are practiced with (or without) a Chih, a special wooden dowel that is held between the palms to help guide the circulation of vital energy (Qi). Easier to learn than Tai Chi with all the same great health benefits, Tai Chi Chih is a complete low-impact aerobic system that relieves stress, improves respiration, increases circulation and enhances neuro-muscular coordination.

HOME & GARDEN

GARDEN

Discovering the Bugs in Your Garden

This course is aimed at discovering the amazing world of insects, spiders, and other creatures that live just outside your door. Some you see all the time, like honeybees or white butterflies. But is there still more to learn about their lives, and what they contribute to yours? Others you might not have noticed yet. This course will help you discover them for the first time. A few bugs are pests; many more are beneficial or simply beautiful. We'll learn about them all as we learn to welcome them into our gardens, and to be better caretakers and citizens of the planet we share with these fascinating beings.
